

An alternative cholesterol measurement may have submitted by Vitality members whose total cholesterol results did not qualify them for in-range points. A particularly high level of HDL cholesterol - the "good" cholesterol - can sometimes push the total cholesterol value out of what is normally considered the healthy range. The alternative cholesterol measurement takes this into account and determines how much of the total cholesterol is comprised of good, HDL cholesterol.

To qualify for Vitality Points, you must submit the information and supporting test results within 90 days of the event completion.

Complete Section A and B and attach your results or have your health care practitioner or lab facility complete sections C and D below.
